

Express Yourself! DIY Fashion Workshop Affirming Queer and Trans Identities

How can we use self-expression as a tool for empowerment that affirms our queer and trans identities? We'll start with a brief chat to explore how marginalized communities have used clothing/accessories/fashion to express themselves and flag/communicate, the challenges and opportunities we face in expressing our full selves – and then we'll have a DIY crafting session where you can alter/embellish clothing and create your own accessories including jewelry, pins, and tote bags.

No crafting experience necessary! Clothing/accessories from the Gender Expansive Community Organizations's Gender Affirming Regalia Box will be available, and you can also bring any clothing or shoes that you'd like to work on! Decorative craft supplies (fabric paint, stamps, stencils, studs, sequins, beads, etc) will be provided!
