

The Year at a Glance

The Harold F. Johnson Library had another productive year, supporting the research, information and academic needs of the Hampshire College community. The highlights of the year are many, and include significant collection use and growth, and a steady teaching and reference program. This year marked the planning and collaborative project management for the upcoming (Summer 2021) migration to the open-source FOLIO library service platform as a replacement for the current system, Aleph, that the Five College Library Consortium has shared for the past fourteen years. It was also a year marked by the Covid-19 pandemic. In mid March 2020, we all started working remotely and had to drastically change the way in which we provide our services to patrons.

The HIGHLIGHTS

- Librarians taught 12 course-related instruction sessions, reaching 121 students and responded to 223 research help requests or drop in consultations from students at the Info Bar (including 120 which were at least 30 minute sessions). We also had two tabling/ outreach events and held 4 workshops, reaching 57 more students.
- Media Services taught 25 technology workshops
- Launch of the Havana Archive Project : a major accomplishment capping years of work on this project

Harold F. Johnson Library Activities 2019-2020

- The Library began the collaboration with the Community Commons with eventual goal of transition of space infrastructure and programs over to CoCo's oversight
- Robin Nolasco, Social Science Librarian, and Laura Wenk, Director of Assessment and Professor of Cognition and Education, co taught Peer CS-0289: Mentoring in the Knowledge Commons: Practicum in Peer Mentoring in the Knowledge Commons in Spring 2020

Staff

The Harold F. Johnson Library, Knowledge Commons and Hampshire College Art Gallery staff are the heart of the library, and it is their work, creativity, and ingenuity that enable Hampshire to provide its students and faculty with a very strong library program. The following achievements represent the work of the staff of the Harold F. Johnson Library and Hampshire College Art Gallery. This is a staff that includes 9 permanent FTE, 1 grant-funded Archivist, and 28 Work Study Students. By the end of FY 2020, the staff included: Jen Bolmarcich, Amedeo DeCara, Jes Neal, Suzanne Karanikis, Sam Sharp, Olivia Rossetti, Tatjana Mackin, Neil Young, John Bruner, and Rachel Beckwith.

Staffing changes in FY20 included saying goodbye to Gallery Director Amy Halliday; Alumni Fellows Ray Mendel (Gallery), Emily Moran (Archives); and Cat/ Milo Bezark (Holistic Learning Program). Cat/ Milo was then hired into a permanent position by the Office of Accommodations and Resources. Robin Nolasco, Social Science Librarian, left the College in mid May 2020. We welcomed two new Access Services Associates, Olivia Rossetti and Samantha Sharp in 2019, as we lost their two predecessors to other job opportunities in FY19 and the very beginning of FY 20. We welcomed our new one-year, grant-funded College Archivist, Jes Neal, in September 2019. Then our long-time Technical Services Assistant, Jane Pickles, retired in December, leaving us with no staff in Technical Services. Jane continued on as a part-time consultant for a few hours/ week until April 8, 2020. We then welcomed new staff member, Jen Bolmarcich, as our Systems and Discovery Librarian, at the end of April during the pandemic when we were all working remotely.

Interlibrary Loan

- 561 total items provided to other libraries: 474 digital articles, and 87 physical books (down 433 total from FY 2019). This is largely owing to the fact that, during the staffing transition for this position, OCLC lending was never turned back on, which drastically decreased the number of lending requests we were receiving for physical items for the duration of the fall semester.
- 785 items received from other libraries, 584 digital articles, and 201 physical items (down 474 from FY 2019). Given the decrease in student body size between fiscal years, this decrease in requests seems reasonable and somewhat proportionate to that decrease.

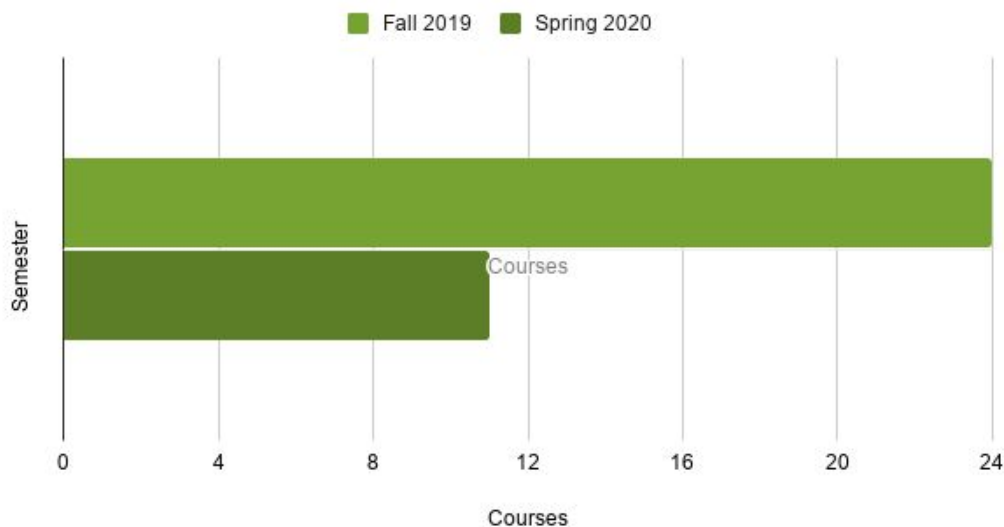

Rapid ILL Covid-19 Lending

- Participated in the RapidILL COVID-19 initiative. Helped to support the resource sharing efforts of over 200 libraries in 30 countries. At the end of the project, nearly 35,000 requests were filled for non-RapidILL borrowing libraries.
- All participating lenders were also involved in their “normal” Rapid pods, so all libraries were simultaneously helping non-RapidILL libraries and providing material to their Rapid community members.
- Total number of requests processed for the RapidILL COVID-19 initiative: 50
- Document with general information on the initiative and notes from some of the participating borrowing libraries.

Reference, Instruction, Outreach, and Media Support

Reference

- General Reference Requests - recorded in Gimet: 223
- Reference Consultations - one on one meetings with students that last up to 60 minutes:
 - 120 recorded in Gimet
- Archive Reference Requests: 67 The Archives received a total of 67 reference requests during fiscal year 2019-2020, which was a 37% decrease from the 2018-2019 fiscal year. This can be attributed to Covid-19 decreasing the number of drop-ins and an offering of mostly remote reference assistance. The bulk of archival reference requests involve DIV III submission assistance and topical DIV III research requests. There was also an uptick in photo digitization requests. A unique request came through the Five Colleges which was a request for back issues of the Hartford Times from the 1800s.

Instruction

- Robin Nolasco, Social Science Librarian, and Laura Wenk, Director of Assessment and Professor of Cognition and Education, co taught a semester-long course : Peer CS-0289: Mentoring in the Knowledge Commons: Practicum in Peer Mentoring.
Course description:

This course will prepare students to be peer mentors in the Knowledge Commons in the library. We will meet weekly as a group to discuss some readings, make decisions about Commons staffing, hone our practice and debrief from our experiences. The bulk of the course and its assignments take place through work as peer mentors in the Knowledge Commons space and/or in the media labs as appropriate. Each student will select to work in one of these areas: Research and Technology, Holistic Learning Program, the Community Commons, Quantitative Resource Center, the Media Labs, or more generally in academic programming (e.g. supporting a college-wide program, organizing skill shares or writing jams, etc.). Students will develop an understanding of what it means to be in a mentoring role and hone their practice. In addition to functioning as Peer Mentors during this semester, there will be opportunities for continued work as a Peer Mentor in future semesters. Students should expect to work approximately 10 hours outside of class on readings, assignments, and work in the Knowledge Commons.

- Librarians taught 12 course-related instruction sessions, reaching 121 students.
- Librarians offered 4 workshops and 2 outreach events/ open houses for targeted groups including Baldwin Students, International Students, Transfer Students and new faculty, reaching over 50 students in these efforts.
- Spring 2020 New Student Orientation Session
 - In-person, held in library
 - 10 students attended
 - Activity: scavenger hunt through the library to meet staff and see collections, with the incentive of making a Hampshire-themed button at the end.
- Media Services Conducted 25 in-class training workshops on a variety of production equipment and techniques
- The College Archivist taught the following courses:
 - Approaching Aftermath, Course 0250. Instructors kara lynch and Thuy Le, In person. Presentation Title: Engaging Archives Part II: Academic and Community Repositories, November 2, 2019, 12 students.
 - First Year Seminar Pandemics Course: COVID-19 Oral History Project
- The Art Gallery taught classes and workshops and supported many students (exact data unavailable).

Outreach in the Knowledge Commons, Writing Center, and Exhibit cases

The KC space is a central hub on the Hampshire campus, which is especially important, since we lack a Student Center. Having both a conceptual and physical space in the Knowledge Commons was a great benefit to the Community Commons program and the students they serve. Collaborating with the KC allowed the CoCo program to meet with students formally and informally—formally by scheduling regular events in the space, informally by offering “office” hours for students to drop-in, learn new skills and get to know one another. Being part of the KC builds a sense of community and helps the Community Commons programs be more visible and accessible.

- Even after the pandemic precluded in-person gatherings, CoCo continued to meet virtually, and build on the work they started, and are now working toward the reality of a Community Commons. This would not have been possible without the foundational work laid by the Library and KC.
- Between Fall semester 2019 and spring semester 2020 (before the pandemic), Mary Bombardier met with 42 students about Community engagement broadly and often CEL 1 and 2 and grant opportunities in the KC. Advising sessions include discussions about their ideas for fulfilling CEL, brainstorming, offering info about community partners. Mary met with an additional 24 students online from March 2020 through May 2020.
- Student Group/ Community Commons (CoCo) Convo: 3 in-person meetings with approx 45 students each: 135 students
- Grants Info Session in the KC: 40 students
- Mend & Repair sessions on-site: 5 weeks X 5 students: 25 students

- Mend & Repair @ Stress-Less week of programming: 6 students
- Activism through Art: Karin DiGia and Sister Corita Kent : Exhibition
- BLKLIFE: Blk Students and Faculty at Hampshire, 1970-1988: Exhibition
- The College Archivist presented: The History of Student Publications in the KC
- The Tech Tuesdays program was created in December 2019 and began in January 2020. Gaby Richard Harrington, Instructional Technologist, hosted 2 hours of drop-in support and a noon-hour workshop held between the drop-in slots. A variety of offerings included: GSuite, Grackle, Google Slides, and Robobrace. As the Covid-19 news and virus spread, the sessions were focused on preparing for the possibility of remote teaching and learning. Online Collaboration in Google Slides and Docs, Zoom, Google Meet, Whiteboard.chat, Jamboard, Moodle, simple closed captioning, making course materials more accessible, and more was offered. The attendance at drop-in sessions was sporadic yet extremely useful to those who dropped in. A handful of sessions were well attended when a group of staff and/or faculty had requested a particular topic.
- After the pandemic hit, Tech Tuesday format changed to allow faculty and staff to reach Gaby during work hours by Zoom and Google Meet any weekday. The pandemic and remote work changed the dynamics and the mindset of many and created more urgency for the need to learn to communicate and teach this way for some. Tech Tuesdays became open office hours 8:30-4:30 on Zoom. Faculty made appointments or just dropped in. The College purchased Zoom, and Gaby offered almost daily training on Zoom, Moodle, and all their features as well as workshops that addressed the pedagogy of this emergency remote teaching. Hampshire College had no online courses and many used Moodle in limited ways before this point in time.
- Holistic Learning Program (HLP): Alumni Fellow Milo- 205 student meetings
- Holistic Learning Program (HLP): Peer Mentors, Tori + Julia: 39 student meetings (offered 790 appointments)
- Holistic Learning Program (HLP): Calendaring every week both semester (~ 32 sessions) with an attendance of 1-4 students
- Writing Center Fellows met with 78 total students in FY20 for a total of 800 meetings.
- There were 33 exhibits of Div III work scheduled for the Gallery in Spring 2020, from March through May. The pandemic meant that we had to close the Gallery as right at the beginning of the pandemic, everyone was still figuring out how to safely proceed. Students all had to come up with alternate ways of sharing their work.

Gallery Report

- Amy Halliday left the College in August 2019 so Hampshire College was without a Gallery Director for most of the time period of this report. Ray Mendel left the College in April 2020. Before she left, Amy Halliday (with Ray Mendel) started an inventory of the entire art collection during this fiscal year. Ray then completed the work after Amy left the College. They created an inventory and physically identified the current location of all art works on campus and in storage. They also re-configured the Art Storage room and built shelves to accommodate more works of art safely. Both of these projects were huge accomplishments.

Media Support

- Completed 31 event support requests (this includes setup, breakdown, and operation of sound support, video projection, and requests to be present to deal with problems as they arise)
- Facilitated 64 appointments for one-on-one trainings and consultations; this includes for equipment we circulate and for classroom support as well as general advising meetings with students.
- Fielded 6 requests to record/edit audio and video content
- Attended 105 meetings of all types: regularly scheduled, special committees, etc.
- Made 8 appointments to assist with A/V lab and classroom installations, repair, and maintenance
- Conducted 25 in-class training workshops on a variety of production equipment and techniques
- Held 44 Media Services In Isolation/Exile Drop-in Hours zoom sessions for students, faculty, staff, alumni and guest artists to hang out, vent, mourn, and geek out during the beginning of Pandemic and quarantines. Sessions were daily first the 7 or so weeks, then reduced to weekly over the summer. 195 folks dropped by (of that number, 66 were students, 75 were alumni, 15 were staff/faculty, and 12 were guest artists). Average attendance was 5 per session, with the largest groups around 14 and the smallest around 1.

Advanced Media Labs Support

- Commencement planning, streaming, multithreading, design and technology planning.
- Faculty remote support- helped plan and execute faculty needs related to hybrid and remote teaching, including but not limited to hardware and purchasing consultation, physical installation and station/lab setup, hardware and software.
- John Bruner continues to work with professors like Salman Hameed (Using GreenScreen StudioG to shoot Kainaat Astronomy videos in Urdu) and Dan Warner (developed, designed, installed analog synthesizer and video lab).
- Upgrade and maintenance of Library Lab facilities including Yurt Radio and FPH StopMotion lab.
- New Skype system for StudioG
- Consulted with students on technology needs.
- Checked out equipment to students for their divisional work.
- Trained and consulted with student workers on their projects, such as adding metadata to digitized archives and creating organizational material to aid in student re-integration.
- John Bruner attended weekly film photo meetings even over the summer.

Library Space Use

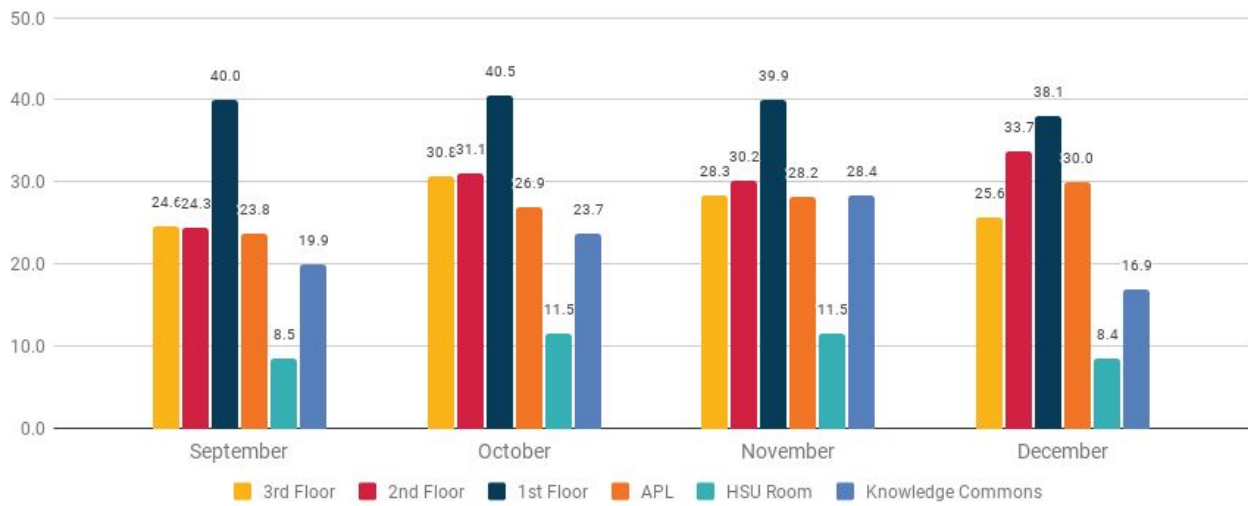

The following data was compiled based on patron head-counts conducted by our student employees on the half hour during the academic year. Notably, in the spring, library hours were extended from 9am-10pm to 9am-12am. Usage during these extended night hours can be found in the graphs below.

Numbers for January may be incomplete, as the student workers are not always present to do head counts for the full duration of those months, nor is the library open regular hours during those months.

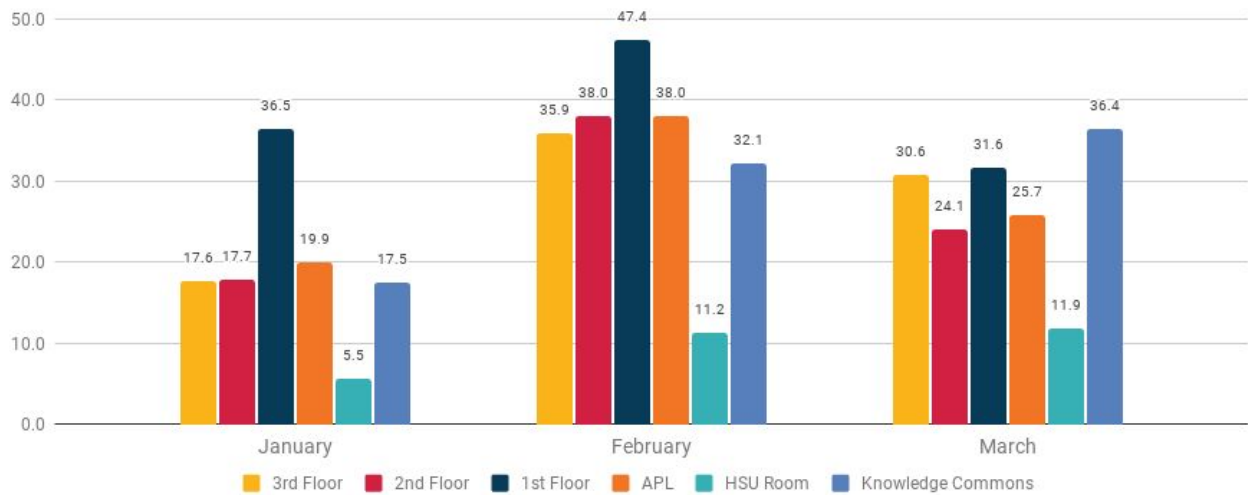

The following graphs examine space usage by our patrons by time of day, space, and month. Due to safety closings beginning mid-March 2020, there is reduced data for March and no data for April, May, and June.
